

You'll be given a scenario where you're asked to help your friend secure his business's Windows computer. Need to apply what you've learned throughout the course to improve security and give recommendations. You'll also need to make sure only needed applications are running. You'll be documenting all of this in a template, just like the one I prepare for my clients when I perform security assessments. It's meant to be a fun way for you to get hands-on cybersecurity experience.
